At the age of 27 he enlisted in Co C of the 4th OVC as a bugler...date was February 24th 1864. He was discharged July 15th 1865. According to medical records he received a small injury to his arm while fighting in the battle of Atlanta. He contracted rheumatism while marching in Alabama and Georgia and was eventually disabled by the disease.

He made walking canes after the war that depicted the battles he had been in and my family is still in possession of some of his canes.
